1A Vocabulary

Description Students play a bingo style game to practise numbers 0–10
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 3d, page 5
Time 10 minutes
Extra material None

Instructions

a Draw a grid with nine squares on the board:

b Ask SS to call out numbers at random from 0–10. Fill the numbers in at random on the grid.

10		2
	6
	0	3

c Divide SS into pairs. Ask them to copy the grid into their notebooks, but to write their numbers in a different order.

d Call out numbers at random. SS listen and circle the numbers as they hear them. The first pair to get three numbers in a row (horizontal, vertical, or diagonal) wins a point.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

1B Grammar

Description Students correct errors in six short dialogues to practise language from the lesson
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 4d, page 7
Time 15 minutes
Extra material Print out, photocopy, and cut in half a Where are you from? worksheet – one for each student

Instructions

a Write on the board:

Where he from?

Ask SS to find the error. Get a volunteer to come to the board to correct the sentence ('Where's he from?'). Explain that it's good to be able to recognize written errors. This can help improve accuracy.

b Divide SS into pairs. Give each student a copy of the worksheet 'Where are you from?' Ask SS to work together to find and correct the dialogues.

c When pairs have finished ask them to compare answers with another pair. Review any answers SS disagree about with the class.

Answers

1 A Where's Keira Knightley from?
B I think she's from Ireland.
C No, she isn't. She's English.

2 A Is it from Mexico?
B No, it isn't. It's from Brazil.

3 A I'm Hiro. I live in Hong Kong, China.
B Are you Chinese?
A No, I'm not. I'm Japanese.

4 A Where are you from?
B I'm from Hungary.
A Is she from Hungary too?
B No, she isn't. She's from Spain.

5 A Are you from Russia?
B Yes, I am. Where are you and Aslan from?
A We're from Turkey.

6 A Where are they from?
B They're from Russia.
A Where in Russia?
B St Petersburg.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

'Where are you from?'

Read the dialogues and correct the errors. There is one error in each dialogue.

1 A Where's Keira Knightley from?
B I think she's from Ireland.
C No, she isn't. He's English.

2 A Is it from Mexico?
B No, she isn't. It's from Brazil.

3 A I'm Hiro. I live in Hong Kong, China.
B You are Chinese?
A No, I'm not. I'm Japanese.

4 A Where is you from?
B I'm from Hungary.
A Is she from Hungary too?
B No, she isn't. She's from Spain.

5 A Are you from Russia?
B Yes, I am. Where are you and Aslan from?
A We're from Turkish.

6 A Where are they from?
B They from Russia.
A Where in Russia?
B St Petersburg.

www.oup.com/elt/englishfile

'Where are you from?'

Read the dialogues and correct the errors. There is one error in each dialogue.

1 A Where's Keira Knightley from?
B I think she's from Ireland.
C No, she isn't. He's English.

2 A Is it from Mexico?
B No, she isn't. It's from Brazil.

3 A I'm Hiro. I live in Hong Kong, China.
B You are Chinese?
A No, I'm not. I'm Japanese.

4 A Where is you from?
B I'm from Hungary.
A Is she from Hungary too?
B No, she isn't. She's from Spain.

5 A Are you from Russia?
B Yes, I am. Where are you and Aslan from?
A We're from Turkish.

6 A Where are they from?
B They from Russia.
A Where in Russia?
B St Petersburg.

1C Listening and grammar

Description Students listen to a text and complete the gaps
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 5, page 9
Time 20 minutes
Extra material Print out, photocopy and cut up the I'm from Japan worksheet – one half for each pair of students a Divide SS into pairs, As and Bs. Give a copy of worksheet A to all the As and B to the Bs. Tell SS not to look at each other's worksheets.

Instructions

b Explain to SS that they have to read their text to their partner, who listens and completes the gaps. A starts reading Text 1 to B. When A has finished, B reads Text 2 to A.

c When pairs have finished, encourage them to read each other's texts, and peer correct.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

I'm from Japan

Student A

Text 1
Read the text to B.

Hi, my name's Yuka. I'm from Japan. I'm a teacher and I live in London. I have a boyfriend. His name is Carlos. He's Brazilian. He's a receptionist.

Text 2
Listen to B and complete the gaps.

Hello, I'm _____. I'm _____, but I live in _____. I speak _____ and _____. I love English. My English teacher is from the _____ _____.

I'm from Japan

Student B

Text 1
Listen to A and complete the gaps.

Hi, my name's _____. I'm from _____. I'm a _____ and I live in _____. I have a boyfriend. His name is Carlos. He's _____. He's a _____.

Text 2
Read the text to A.

Hello, I'm Kris. I'm Polish, but I live in Scotland. I speak Polish and English. I love English. My English teacher is from the United States.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

2A Vocabulary

Description Students practise classroom language
Lesson link Use this activity before students open their books to start the lesson
Time 10 minutes
Extra material None

Instructions

a Tell SS that you are going to give some instructions and they must do what you say. The instructions will either be for the whole class, e.g. 'Stand up, please', or for individual SS only, e.g. 'Jaime and Sara, please stand up.'

b Give out some instructions, such as Close your books.

_____, close the door.
Open your books.
_____, open the door.
Look at the board, please.
Look at your books.
_____, look at _____.
etc.

c After a few minutes you could ask a student to take over your role, or you could divide the class into groups and get each group to choose 'an instructor'.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

2B Grammar and vocabulary

Description Students discuss personal possessions and practise using possessive adjectives; possessive s
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 1c, page 16
Time 10 minutes
Extra material A small bag for each group or one bag for the class

Instructions

a Divide SS into groups of three or four. Give each group a bag (or pass one bag around the class). Ask SS to secretly put one of their possessions in it.

b Gather in the bag(s). Pick up a possession from one of the SS' desks, e.g. a pen. Say 'This is _____'s pen.' Write it on the board. Elicit 'Is this ____'s pen?' 'Yes, it is. / No, it isn't.' Do some brief fluency drills.

c Give out one bag of possessions to each group or ask each student to take one object from the bag. Explain that SS have two minutes to look at the possession and decide who each object belongs to. Tell SS to refer to the language on the board. (Higher level SS could give a reason for their answer, e.g. 'I think it's Pietro's MP3 player because he likes music.')

d After two minutes ask some SS to ask across the classroom to see if they have guessed correctly. For example, 'Elena, is this your mobile phone?' 'Yes, it is.' / 'No, it isn't.'

e Write any useful vocabulary, phrases, or corrections on the board for the class to copy.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

2C Speaking

Description Students play a memory game using adjectives
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 2c, page 18
Time 15 minutes
Extra material Print out, photocopy, and cut up the Adjectives worksheet – one for each group

Instructions

a Divide SS into groups of three or four.

b Tell them that they are going to play a game with adjectives. Explain that all the pieces of paper have one adjective on them and that SS should put them face down on the table/desk so that they can't see the words. The aim is to match opposites, e.g. if a student picks up old, he also needs to pick up new to win.

c Each student takes it in turn to pick up two pieces of paper. If they are opposites, the student keeps the two pieces of paper and plays again. If they aren't opposites, the student must put them back face down. Everyone in the group must be able to see the pieces of paper.

d The winner is the person with the most pairs at the end. Get feedback from class to check all pairs are correct.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

Adjectives

big	small
old	new
fast	slow
good	bad
cheap	expensive
long	short
tall	short

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

3A Pronunciation

Description Students group words by sound
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 3a or 3b, page 24
Time 10 minutes
Extra material Print out, photocopy, and cut in half the Pronunciation worksheet – one for each pair of students a Tell SS they are going to do some pronunciation revision from File 2. Make sure all books are closed.

Instructions

b Divide SS into pairs and give each pair a copy of the worksheet. Explain that they need to put each word into a group according to how the part in bold sounds. Do the first one with SS: tall goes in /ɔː/.

c Point out to SS that the easiest way to do this activity is to say each word out loud.

d When SS have finished, elicit answers from the class.

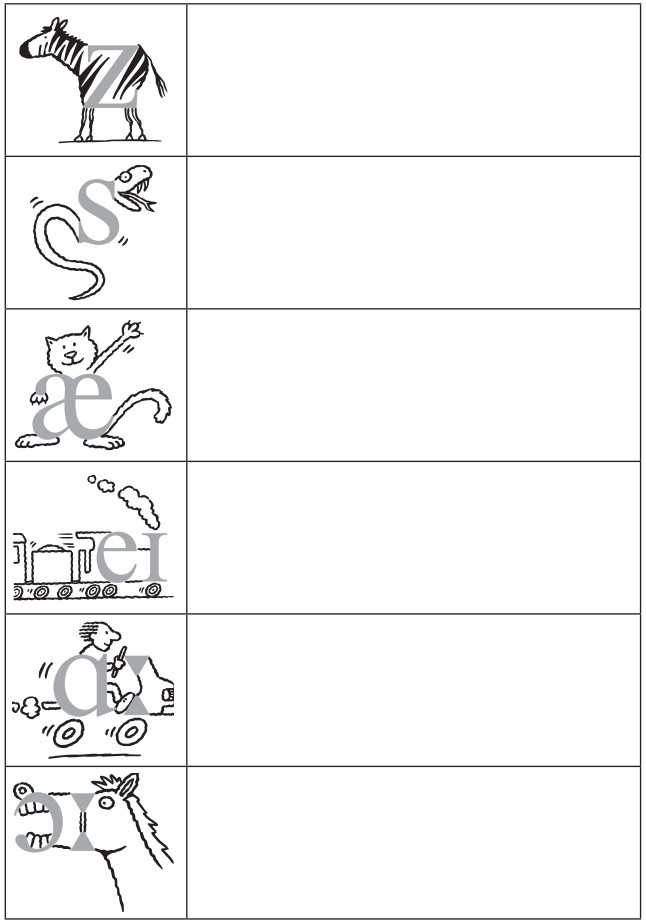

Answers

/z/ zero is bags
/s/ house books son /æ/ black family laptop
/eɪ/ day same name
/ɑː/ fast father card
/ɔː/ tall board door

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

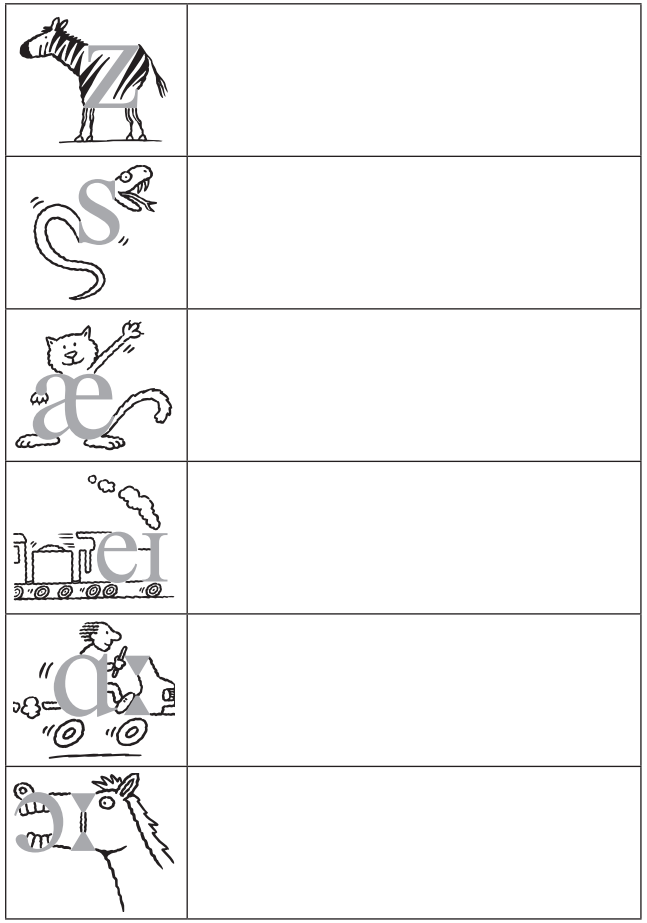

Pronunciation

tall bags father books family laptop
black house name day same is
fast card zero son board door

Pronunciation

tall bags father books family laptop
black house name day same is
fast card zero son board door

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009
www.oup.com/elt/englishfile

Description Students play a game to review food vocabulary
Lesson link Use this activity at the end of the lesson
Time 10 minutes
Extra material None

Instructions

a Tell SS that you are going to play a game to review food vocabulary.

b Divide SS into pairs / groups of three and ask them to choose a team name. Write the team names on the board so that you can keep scores. Tell SS that you are going to call out three letters in a row. SS must write the letters down and think of a food word that begins with each one, e.g. You call out 'A, B, C', SS could write apple, banana, chocolate. 'E, F, H' could be eggs, fish, hamburger. The first team to get three words scores a point (it's OK to award points for any extra food vocabulary that SS might know even if it hasn't been taught in the lesson). If SS do produce new vocabulary, take a note of this, and review it with the class at the end of the lesson.

Suggestions for letters to call out:

TCS (e.g. tea, cheese, sugar/salad/sandwich)

SMP (e.g. sugar/salad/sandwich, meat/milk, potatoes/pasta)

OPS (e.g. orange juice, potatoes/pasta, sugar/salad/sandwich)

TVW (e.g. tea, vegetables, wine)

FBM (e.g. fruit, bread/butter, meat/milk)

And any other combinations.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

3C Grammar and pronunciation

Description Students read two short texts to review present simple: he, she, it and 3rd person s endings
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 5b or 6d, page 29
Time 15 minutes
Extra material Print out, photocopy and cut up a My dream job worksheet – one for each student a Divide SS into pairs. Write on the board: 'What's your dream job?' Give SS two minutes to ask and answer the question. After they have finished, ask them to feed back some of their ideas. Write any useful vocabulary on the board for the class to copy.

Instructions

b Give each student a copy of the worksheet My dream job. Ask them to skim read the text and tell you the general theme.

c Pre-teach / elicit the meaning of youth hostel, interpreter, and translate. Explain / elicit what 'refer to' means in the first question. Do an example with the class – Line 1, text 1: 'What does 'he' refer to?' Elicit 'Johan'. Explain that knowing who or what pronouns refer to can help SS understand a text.

d Divide SS into pairs and tell them to work through question 1 on the worksheet together.

e Review the answers to question 1 with the class.

f Draw SS' attention to question 2 on the worksheet. Ask them to find a verb in Line 1, text 1 (is). Say 'What sound does the s ending have?' Elicit /z/. Ask SS to work through question 2 together. Encourage them to talk about their answers and practise the pronunciation of the 3rd person s endings.

Answers

Johan is /z/ Swiss, but he works /s/ in a youth hostel in Australia. He answers /z/ the telephone and takes /s/ room reservations. He also welcomes /z/ the guests when they arrive. Johan says /z/, 'Guests from all over the world stay here and English is the common language of communication. I really enjoy meeting people and using English every day.'

Nina works /s/ as an interpreter for a TV news station. She speaks /s/ seven languages and she uses /ɪz/ English most of all. She uses /ɪz/ it with journalists and also when she speaks /s/ on the phone. She also watches /ɪz/ news reports and translates /s/ them into other languages. Nina says /z/, 'I love my job. I travel and meet people from around the world. It's great!'

1 he = Johan; they = the guests; she = Nina; it = English; it = her job
2 See text above
3 (Students' own answers)

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

My dream job

Johan is Swiss, but he works in a youth hostel in Australia. He answers the telephone and takes room reservations. He also welcomes the guests when they arrive. Johan says, 'Guests from all over the world stay here and English is the common language of communication. I really enjoy meeting people and using English every day.'

Nina works as an interpreter for a TV news station. She speaks seven languages and she uses English most of all. She uses it with journalists and also when she speaks on the phone. She also watches news reports and translates them into other languages. Nina says, 'I love my job. I travel and meet people from around the world. It's great!'

Read the texts and work with a partner to answer the questions.

1 What do the bold words refer to?
2 Find the 3rd person present simple verbs and circle them. Say them aloud and decide which is the correct pronunciation, /z/, /s/, or /ɪz/.
3 Which job would you like? Why?

My dream job

Johan is Swiss, but he works in a youth hostel in Australia. He answers the telephone and takes room reservations. He also welcomes the guests when they arrive. Johan says, 'Guests from all over the world stay here and English is the common language of communication. I really enjoy meeting people and using English every day.'

Nina works as an interpreter for a TV news station. She speaks seven languages and she uses English most of all. She uses it with journalists and also when she speaks on the phone. She also watches news reports and translates them into other languages. Nina says, 'I love my job. I travel and meet people from around the world. It's great!'

Read the texts and work with a partner to answer the questions.

1 What do the bold words refer to?
2 Find the 3rd person present simple verbs and circle them. Say them aloud and decide which is the correct pronunciation, /z/, /s/, or /ɪz/.
3 Which job would you like? Why?

www.oup.com/elt/englishfile

4A Vocabulary

Description Students read a text and correct errors with collocations
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 5d, page 35
Time 15 minutes
Extra material Print out and photocopy the My Typical Day worksheet – one for each student (Use worksheet 1 for weaker SS and worksheet 2 for stronger SS).

Instructions

a Ask SS if they can think of any people who might have a different daily routine. Elicit doctor, nurse (working a night shift), and any more SS might know. Elicit DJ. Ask SS what they think a DJ's typical day might be like.

b Divide SS into pairs. Give each student a copy of the worksheet My Typical Day. Pre-teach / elicit club, fashionable, and equipment. Explain that they should read the text and correct the errors. These are the bold phrases in text 1.

c After SS have finished the exercise, join two pairs together and ask them to compare their answers. Review any answers that the class disagrees about.

Answers

My name is Jaden and I'm a DJ at a popular club in Ibiza, Spain. My day is quite different from most people's. I [get up] at about 2.00 p.m. in the afternoon. I [have lunch] – usually just a coffee and a sandwich. After lunch I [do some housework] and then go for a walk. I often [go shopping]. I buy a lot of T-shirts and trainers – I have to look fashionable in the club. At 6.00 p.m. I [go to the gym] for about an hour. I usually invite friends to my house in the evening. I love cooking, so I [make dinner] and we all eat together. At 9.30 p.m. I go to the club. I [go to work] in a big car, because I have to take all my equipment and my music collection. I DJ until about 4.00 in the morning. After work I [have breakfast] at the club and then I [go home]. At about 5.00 in the morning I [go to bed], just before most people [get up]!

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

My Typical Day (1)

Work with a partner. Correct the errors that are bold in the text.

My name is Jaden and I'm a DJ at a popular club in Ibiza, Spain. My day is quite different from most people's. I go up at about 2.00 p.m. in the afternoon. I has lunch – usually just a coffee and a sandwich. After lunch I make some housework and then go for a walk. I often do shopping. I buy a lot of T-shirts and trainers – I have to look fashionable in the club. At 6.00 p.m. I go the gym for about an hour. I usually invite friends to my house in the evening. I love cooking, so I get dinner and we all eat together. At 9.30 p.m. I go to the club. I going to work in a big car, because I have to take all my equipment and my music collection. I DJ until about 4.00 in the morning. After work I has breakfast at the club and then I go to home. At about 5.00 in the morning I go bed, just before most people gets up!

My Typical Day (2)

Work with a partner. Find and correct the errors in the text. There are 11 errors.

My name is Jaden and I'm a DJ at a popular club in Ibiza, Spain. My day is quite different from most people's. I go up at about 2.00 p.m. in the afternoon. I has lunch – usually just a coffee and a sandwich. After lunch I make some housework and then go for a walk. I often do shopping. I buy a lot of T-shirts and trainers – I have to look fashionable in the club. At 6.00 p.m. I go the gym for about an hour. I usually invite friends to my house in the evening. I love cooking, so I get dinner and we all eat together. At 9.30 p.m. I go to the club. I going to work in a big car, because I have to take all my equipment and my music collection. I DJ until about 4.00 in the morning. After work I has breakfast at the club and then I go to home. At about 5.00 in the morning I go bed, just before most people gets up!

www.oup.com/elt/englishfile

4B Writing and speaking

Description Students write about a town or city
Lesson link Use this activity at the end of the lesson
Time 20 minutes
Extra material None

Instructions

a Ask SS to think about the Hammerfest text.

b Write on the board:

> Why does the writer use a lot of statistics?
> Who would read this type of text?

Explain / elicit the meaning of statistics. Divide SS into pairs. And give them three minutes to discuss the questions. While SS are talking write on the board:

> What's the city / town called?
> Where is it?
> How many people live there?
> Do a lot of tourists visit?
> What do people do there?

Check answers to the first two questions. (Answers: to make the text more interesting; tourists)

c Divide SS into pairs / groups of three and ask them to nominate a writer. Tell them to think about a city anywhere in the world. Ask them to write approximately 25 – 50 words about the city. Refer them to the questions on the board and suggest that they use these as a plan to structure their writing. Explain that it is the process of writing – thinking carefully about vocabulary and grammar that is important in this exercise so SS should work as a group and discuss their ideas. Set SS about 15 minutes to write.

d When the texts are finished, stick them on the wall for other groups to read.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

Description Students discuss rules and laws around the world
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 3d, page 39
Time 15 minutes
Extra material Print out and photocopy the Rules around the world worksheet – one for each pair of students a Ask SS if they know any interesting or strange rules or laws in other countries. Discuss some examples briefly if SS know some.

Instructions

b Divide SS into pairs and hand out a copy of worksheet Rules around the world.

c Set a time limit of ten minutes. Ask SS to discuss the questions on the worksheet. Encourage them to expand their answers as much as possible. After ten minutes ask the class to report some of their ideas. Write useful vocabulary and phrases on the board for SS to copy.

Answers

You can drive in New Zealand when you're 14. (False; it is 15 when after passing a test you can only drive alone between 6.00 a.m. and 10.00 p.m. You can get a full licence at 17.)

You can get married at 16 in Scotland. (True)

In Australia a child can't buy cigarettes, but can smoke. (True)

You can't skateboard in a police station in Miami, Florida. (True)

You can drink alcohol at 18 in the UK. (True)

In France you can't name a pig Napoleon. (True)

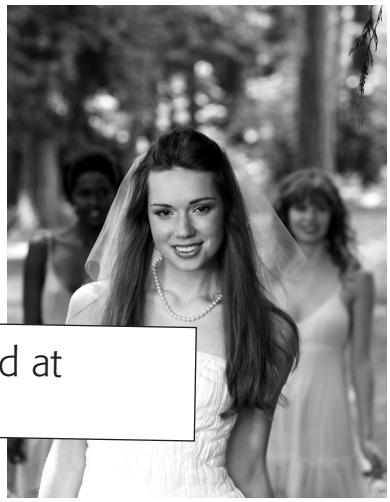

You can't eat chewing-gum in Singapore. (True)

In Switzerland you can't wash your car on Sunday. (True)

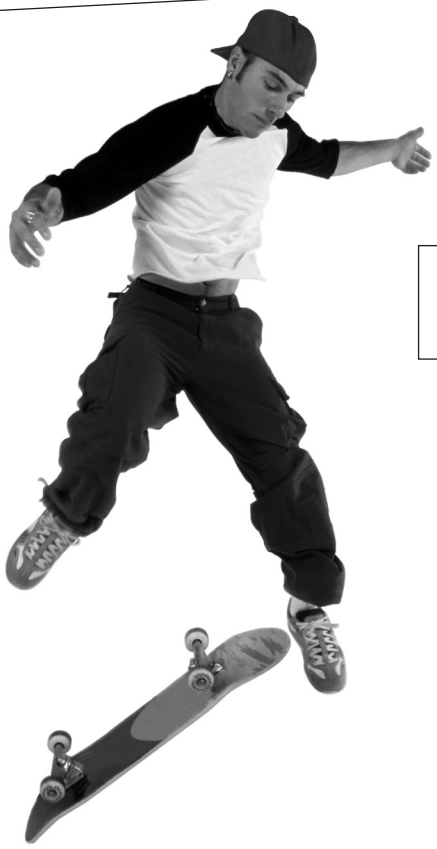

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

Rules around the world

You can drive in New Zealand when you're 14.

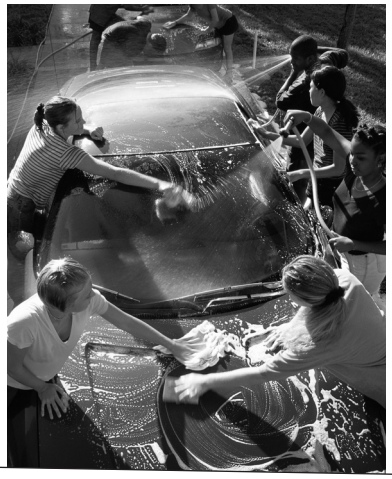

You can't skateboard in a police station in Miami, Florida.

You can get married at 16 in Scotland.

In Australia a child can't buy cigarettes, but can smoke.

You can drink alcohol at 18 in the UK.

In France you can't name a pig Napoleon.

You can't eat chewing-gum in Singapore.

In Switzerland you can't wash your car on Sunday.

1 Are these laws true or false?

2 Are any of these rules / laws the same in your country?

3 Which rules do you find good? Why?

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

5A Writing

Description Students write about a famous person's history and practise past simple: be and in, on, at Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 3d, page 45
Time 20 minutes
Extra material None

Instructions

a Divide SS into pairs / groups of three and ask them to nominate a writer. Ask them to choose a famous person (preferably whose history they don't really know). Tell SS that they're going to write an imaginary history for their chosen person. Ask 'What information should you write about your famous person?', 'Which grammar should you use?' (Elicit past simple be). Write some of their suggestions on the board. Make sure they include:

the name they had before they were famous where they lived
what their house was like what their job was where they worked
what kind of car they had

b Set a time limit of ten minutes and tell groups to write approximately 30–50 words. Explain that it is the process of writing that is important and that SS should discuss grammar and vocabulary as they write.

c After ten minutes ask groups to pin their stories up on the wall for other groups to read.

d After SS have read all the stories, ask which stories they liked and why.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

5B Speaking

Description Students plan a speaking exercise about a special day in their lives to practise past simple: have, go, get
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 5e, page 47
Time 20 minutes
Extra material None

Instructions

a Point out that for two of the blog writers 18th October 2006 was an ordinary day. Ask SS 'Which writer wrote about a special day?' Elicit writer 1 (Pauline) as it was her wedding anniversary. Ask SS if they know of any other special days in a person's history. Elicit birthday (SS may also suggest wedding day, graduation, engagement, name day, starting school / university, etc. It's OK for them to do this in their L1 if they need to).

b Write on the board:

A special day in my history
Who you were with
Where you were
What you did
Why it was special

c Tell SS to plan to speak to a partner about a special day in their history (it can be a special event like a wedding or just a day that they really enjoyed). Suggest that they write brief notes based on the phrases on the board to structure their story logically. They can also refer to the language in the blogs in exercise 5. Set a time limit of five minutes for SS to plan.

d SS take turns to talk about their special day. When SS have finished, ask individuals to report about their partner's special day. Write any useful vocabulary and phrases on the board for SS to copy.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

5C Pronunciation

Description Students review common regular verbs and practise the pronunciation of -ed endings
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 5e, page 49
Time 10 minutes
Extra material Print out, photocopy and cut the How do you pronounce…? worksheet – one half for each student

Instructions

a Draw SS' attention to the verb stay in exercise 5d. Ask SS which pronunciation is used for the -ed ending. Elicit /d/.

b Divide SS into pairs, preferably sitting opposite each other, and give each pair a copy of the worksheet. Tell SS not to look at each other's worksheets.

c SS have to say their verbs aloud in the past and decide which pronunciation is correct (/d/, /t/, or /ɪd/) ending. The other student can then say 'yes' or 'no' to guide their partner. Competitive SS can keep score if they want.

d When SS have finished, go over any pronunciations that SS found difficult. You could also ask SS to spell any verbs where the spelling changes in the past.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

www.oup.com/elt/englishfile

How do you pronounce…?

Student A

	Your verbs	Student B's verbs
1	turn	called /d/
2	start	shopped /t/
3	change	checked /t/
4	park (a car)	walked /d/
5	live	rented /ɪd/
6	visit	travelled /d/
7	talk	used /d/
8	play	studied /d/
9	cry	wanted /ɪd/
10	work	learnt /t/

How do you pronounce…?

Student B

	Your verbs	Student A's verbs
1	call	turned /d/
2	shop	started /ɪd/
3	check	changed /d/
4	walk	parked /t/
5	rent	lived /d/
6	travel	visited /ɪd/
7	use	talked /t/
8	study	played /d/
9	want	cried /d/
10	learn	worked /t/

6A Speaking and grammar

Description Students plan a speaking activity to improve their fluency, practise there is / there are, and the prepositions in, on, and at Lesson link Use this activity at the end of the lesson
Time 15 minutes
Extra material None

Instructions

a Write on the board:

> My favourite room is…
> There is / are…
> I like it because…

Tell SS to think of a room that they like. It could be a room in their home, or in a hotel they've stayed in, or a room they remember from their childhood. (It could even be an imaginary room.)

b Ask SS to copy the sentence prompts into their notebooks. Explain that the notes are to help them plan a speaking exercise that will practise the language from the lesson, especially there is / are and the prepositions in, on, and at. Set a time limit of five minutes. Tell SS to work individually first to complete the notes about their chosen room. They can use their dictionaries and ask you questions. They can draw a simple plan of the room if they want to.

c Divide SS into pairs. Explain that the planning / thinking part is to increase their confidence and accuracy when speaking later. SS take turns to describe their rooms to each other.

d Monitor SS as they speak and note any consistent errors and useful vocabulary / phrases to discuss with the class afterwards.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

6B Writing

Description Students write a short text about what their hometown was like in the past
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 3b, page 57
Time 20 minutes
Extra material None

Instructions

a Tell SS to think about their hometown. Write on the board: Was your hometown different when you were a child? How? Elicit some answers and write one or two examples on the board.

b Divide SS into pairs. Give them three minutes to discuss the question.

While SS discuss, write on the board:

> My hometown is called…
> In the past there was / wasn't…
> When I was a child…
> Now there is / isn't…

Ask SS to feed back some information to the class. Ask which grammar they used when they talked (elicit there is / are and there was / were). Draw SS' attention to the useful phrases and elicit any more that SS may want to use. Explain that it's useful to write down some phrases and to consider what grammar to use before beginning writing.

c Tell the class that they are going to do a writing exercise. Suggest that SS work in pairs if they are from the same town, or individually if they are from different towns.

d Give a time limit of ten minutes and allow dictionary use. Go around the class and help SS where necessary. If SS are working in pairs, encourage them to talk about their use of grammar and vocabulary as they write.

e When SS have finished writing, ask them to read each other's texts. If there is time, SS could peer correct.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

Description Students read a text to review object pronouns
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 3c, page 59
Time 20 minutes
Extra material Print out and photocopy the It's a small world! worksheet – one for each student

Instructions

a Hand out a copy of the worksheet 'It's a small world!' to each student. Pre-teach / translate the meaning of coincidence. Ask SS to skim read the text to get an idea of what it's about (set a time limit of 30 seconds for this). After the 30 seconds ask SS some quick comprehension questions, e.g. Where do the people meet? (at the airport), etc.

b Draw SS' attention to the gaps in the text. Ask which word might go in the first gap. Elicit us and ask SS what kind of word it is (object pronoun). Ask SS what us refers to, elicit the writer and the writer's boyfriend ('my boyfriend and I' in the text). Ask SS to draw a circle around 'my boyfriend and I' and join it to us with a line.

c Set a time limit of ten minutes. Ask SS to read the text again in detail and answer the questions on the worksheet. Suggest that SS work together in pairs or small groups, and encourage them to discuss their answers.

d After the time limit review the questions with the class.

Answers

It's a small world!
Five years ago my boyfriend and I went to Japan to teach English. As we waited at the airport a young man sat down next to us. We started talking to him. He said his name was Peter Mason. He asked what we studied at university.
'English Literature,' said my boyfriend. 'Music,' I said.
'Me too,' he replied. 'I studied music in Salamanca in Spain. I finished my course last month.'
'Really?' I said, 'My friend Lorna studied music in Salamanca.'
He looked surprised, 'Lorna? Do you mean Lorna Murray?'
'Yes!' I said.
'I know her really well. We were flat mates!' said Peter.
We were amazed – it was such a coincidence! We talked for the rest of the flight. When we got to Japan we exchanged mobile phone numbers. Peter said, 'My girlfriend's flying here tomorrow. We should meet and walk around Osaka together.'
A few days later he phoned, 'Come and meet me and my girlfriend Maria.' We met them in Osaka and had a great time.
Later I phoned my friend Lorna. 'I met your friend Peter Mason on the plane to Japan.'
'Wow', she said. 'It's a small world!'

2 us = my boyfriend and I; him = a young man; Me = Peter; you = the writer; her = Lorna Murray; it = the coincidence; them = Peter and his girlfriend; it = the world
3 It's not important to identify all the examples here. Just elicit some answers from the students. (we = us; you = you; he = his; she = her; it = it; they = them)
4 Students' own answers.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

It's a small world!

Five years ago my boyfriend and I went to Japan to teach English. As we waited at the airport a young man sat down next to ____. We started talking to ____. He said his name was Peter Mason. He asked what we studied at university. 'English Literature' said my boyfriend. 'Music', I said.

'____ too', he replied. 'I studied music in Salamanca in Spain. I finished my course last month.'

'Really?' I said, 'My friend Lorna studied music in Salamanca.'

He looked surprised, 'Lorna? Do ____ mean Lorna Murray?'

'Yes!' I said.

'I know ____ really well. We were flat mates!' said Peter.

We were amazed – ____ was such a coincidence! We talked for the rest of the flight. When we got to Japan we exchanged phone numbers. Peter said, 'My girlfriend's flying here tomorrow. We should meet and walk around Osaka together.'

A few days later he phoned, 'Come and meet me and my girlfriend Maria.' We met ____ in Osaka and had a great time.

Later I phoned my friend Lorna. 'I met your friend Peter Mason on the plane to Japan.' 'Wow', she said. '____'s a small world!'

me her us it them him

1 Read the text and write an object pronoun from the list above in each gap.

2 Work with a partner. Decide what or who each object pronoun refers to.

3 Circle the subject pronouns in the text. Look at them with your partner. What are the object pronouns for each one?

4 Discuss with your partner: a coincidence / a person you met when you were travelling.

It's a small world!

Five years ago my boyfriend and I went to Japan to teach English. As we waited at the airport a young man sat down next to ____. We started talking to ____. He said his name was Peter Mason. He asked what we studied at university. 'English Literature' said my boyfriend. 'Music', I said.

'____ too', he replied. 'I studied music in Salamanca in Spain. I finished my course last month.'

'Really?' I said, 'My friend Lorna studied music in Salamanca.'

He looked surprised, 'Lorna? Do ____ mean Lorna Murray?'

'Yes!' I said.

'I know ____ really well. We were flat mates!' said Peter.

We were amazed – ____ was such a coincidence! We talked for the rest of the flight. When we got to Japan we exchanged phone numbers. Peter said, 'My girlfriend's flying here tomorrow. We should meet and walk around Osaka together.'

A few days later he phoned, 'Come and meet me and my girlfriend Maria.' We met ____ in Osaka and had a great time.

Later I phoned my friend Lorna. 'I met your friend Peter Mason on the plane to Japan.' 'Wow', she said. '____'s a small world!'

me her us it them him

1 Read the text and write an object pronoun from the list above in each gap.

2 Work with a partner. Decide what or who each object pronoun refers to.

3 Circle the subject pronouns in the text. Look at them with your partner. What are the object pronouns for each one?

4 Discuss with your partner: a coincidence / a person you met when you were travelling.

www.oup.com/elt/englishfile

Description Students review activities vocabulary from the lesson by doing a crossword
Lesson link Use this activity at the end of the lesson
Time 10 minutes
Extra material Print out and photocopy the What do you like doing? worksheet – one for each student a Give each student a copy of the 'What do you like doing?' worksheet. Explain to SS that the number(s) in brackets after each clue represents the number of letters in each answer. Tell SS that they can work individually or in pairs to complete the crossword. Pre-teach / elicit across and down.

Instructions

b After SS have finished ask them to compare answers. Review answers with the class.

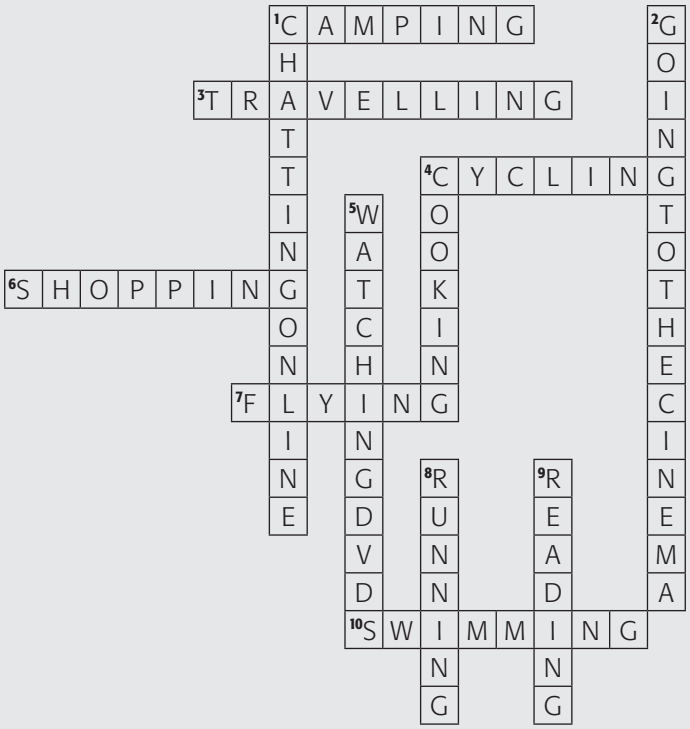

Answers

Across

1 sleeping outside in a tent (camping)
3 visiting different countries (travelling)
4 you do this on a bicycle (cycling)
6 spending all my money in the High Street (shopping)
7 you do this on an aeroplane (flying)
10 you do this in water (swimming)

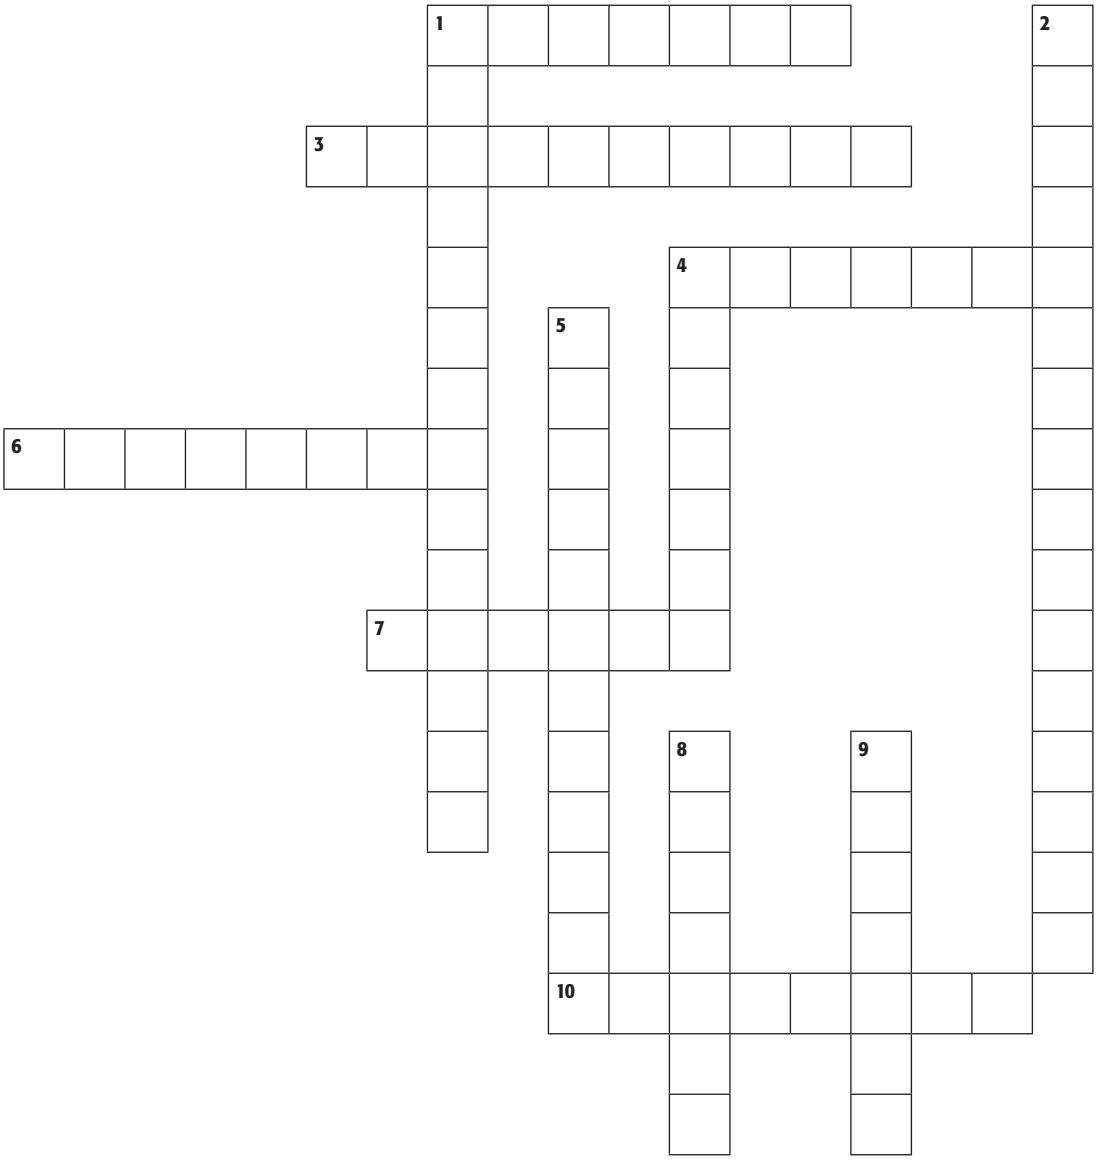

Down

1 talking on the Internet (chatting online)
2 watching a film with lots of other people (going to the cinema)
4 making a meal (cooking)
5 watching films in your house (watching DVDs)
8 you wear your trainers for this (running)
9 enjoying a good book (reading)

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

What do you like doing?

Across

1 sleeping outside in a tent (7)
3 visiting different countries (10)
4 you do this on a bicycle (7)
6 spending all my money in the High Street (8)
7 you do this on an aeroplane (6)
10 you do this in water (8)

Down

1 talking on the Internet (8, 6)
2 watching a film with lots of other people (5, 2, 3, 6)
4 making a meal (7)
5 watching films in your house (8, 4)
8 you wear your trainers for this (7)
9 enjoying a good book (7)

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

7B Grammar and speaking

Description Students play a guessing game to review going to
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 2e, page 66
Time 10 minutes
Extra material None

Instructions

a Divide SS into pairs / teams of three. Ask them to write eight statements – four true and four false about what they're going to do anytime in the future (soon or distant).

b Ask teams to decide on a team name and write them up on the board to keep score.

c Each team takes turns to read a statement. Other teams have one minute to discuss each statement amongst themselves and then guess whether it is true or false (higher level classes could have three minutes to question the team to decide if the statement is true). Teams get one point for each correct guess. The winning team is the one with the most correct guesses.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

7C Vocabulary

Description Students do a miming game to review verb collocations
Lesson link Use this activity after exercise 4c, page 69
Time 10–20 minutes
Extra material A small bag and a copy of the worksheet Verb collocations (cut up and put in the bag)

Instructions

a Before class, cut up one copy of the worksheet Verb collocations where indicated. Fold each piece of paper in half and put them into a small bag.

b Ask SS to close their books. Elicit verbs from the collocations in exercise 4a and write them on the board.

c Divide the class into teams of two or three. Tell SS that they're going to have a competition to see which team can guess the most collocations. Ask SS to pick a team name. Write each name along the top of the board to keep track of their scores.

d Show the class the bag with the collocations in it.

e Teams take turns to come to the front of the class and pick two collocations out of the bag. SS then mime the collocations for the other teams to guess. Ask SS to put up their hands rather than shout out and only award a point for a grammatically correct answer. The team with the most correct guesses wins.

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009

Verb collocations

take an umbrella	take a photo	get up in the morning
play the guitar	go home	get an email
play basketball	go to the cinema	have dinner
play chess	do sport	have a shower
go on holiday	do housework	have children
make a mistake	meet some friends after class	meet somebody for the first time
make friends	make dinner	go to the beach

Photocopiable © Oxford University Press 2009